Background to Glen Eira U3A

Purpose of Glen Eira U3A

Glen Eira U3A aims to:

1. To provide educational, social and recreational programs and activities which promote lifelong learning for members of the Third Age Generation.
2. To create an environment that encourages participation, mutual co-operation and social equality, without reference to qualifications, assessments, awards or distinction between those who teach or lead and those who participate.
3. To participate in local community programs, advocating for, and celebrating, the capabilities and potential of mature-aged people and their value to society.
4. To support and promote the University of the Third Age movement.

History of Glen Eira U3A

Glen Eira U3A has been offering classes to the over 55s since 1987. In 1998 we moved to our current site which had previously been the Glen Huntly Bowling Club. Over the years, our members have been very active in obtaining Government and Council support, and this has resulted in Glen Eira being one of the few U3As to own its own premises.

Our current, purpose-built building was opened in 2010, with a membership of about 650. This number has increased markedly over the following years. We owe a huge debt of gratitude to our long-standing members for their determination, dedication and tireless efforts in making this building a reality.

Tutors' roles, responsibilities and rights

Enrolments

The U3A philosophy means that all applicants for courses are treated fairly. Classes should not be allowed to become de facto private clubs.

Enrolments are accepted online or at reception. The computer system will record enrolments in strict time order. No preference is given to students because of longevity in the course, or for friendship reasons. If there are skill requirements for courses, then they must be specified in the course description and tutors may exclude enrollees who do not meet the advertised requirements following assessment.

Role

Tutors need to:

- Design their course, taking account of the principles of adult learning;
- Decide on the minimum number of participants;
- Provide a course description;
- Develop or organise appropriate resources for the course;
- Set any additional fees for the course;
- If necessary, assess applicants for the course if there are prerequisites;
- Deliver the course; and
- Seek feedback from course participants throughout the course and at its conclusion.

Responsibilities

Tutors have responsibility to:

- be reliable, accountable and committed;
- undertake the agreed program or course responsibly and ethically;
- respect confidentiality;
- request support from class members and the organisation when it is needed;
- value and support other volunteers;
- ensure they are fully aware of all issues concerning OH& S and in particular, evacuation and emergency procedures; and
- know the relevant policies such as copyright, taking photos and grievance procedures.

Rights

Tutors have a right to:

- a healthy and safe work environment;
- reimbursement of U3A associated out-of-pocket expenses;
- consultation and information on matters that directly and indirectly affect them as a tutor;
- access to grievance procedures, if necessary; and
- support to undertake their role as tutor by orientation and professional development opportunities.

Tutor's Assistant

Tutors may wish to enlist the support of an assistant. The assistant may:

- check that name tags are worn;
- ensure the roll is signed by those present;
- assist with technology set up or operation;
- ensure the room is left clean and tidy; and
- if using an external venue, organize tea or coffee supplies.

Course coordinators

The management committee appoints course coordinators each year. There is also a computer course coordinator.

The course coordinators are responsible for the scheduling of classes, allocation of rooms, development of the overall program of courses and promotion of courses.

Class operations

Class membership

The maximum size of classes will have been set taking into account the preferences of tutors, but also the safe capacity of rooms.

Enrolments are done through a computerised system. The reception desk will provide tutors with rolls recording the members enrolled. Any member seeking enrolment who cannot be accommodated within the maximum class size will be wait listed for future vacancies.

Tutors may choose to assess the proficiency of students to ensure that class enrolments are appropriate. However, specific course requirements should be included in the course description.

Tutors are not permitted to allow additional members to join their class without the member having been formally enrolled.

Any person attending the main campus who is not enrolled needs to register at the reception for permission to observe a class or tour the building. For courses run off-site, tutors should decide whether they are happy for the class to be observed, but should not allow participation in active exercise sessions.

Rooms

Courses will have been allocated to specific rooms. Tutors are responsible for setting up the rooms, turning lights and air conditioning on and off, removing any rubbish left in the room, cleaning whiteboards that have been used and returning any equipment.

Tutors will need to ensure that noise does not interfere with other classes operating concurrently.

The demand for rooms is very strong, so tutors will need to ensure that they vacate rooms quickly to allow the next class to set up.

Off campus classes

Some courses are run in local government facilities.

Tutors will need to obtain a key from the Healthy Aging Officer, Glen Eira Council on 9524 3800.

Tutors are responsible for the use and maintenance of the venue. Please check that a first aid kit is available and that members are briefed on emergency procedures at the venue. Please ensure that you have access to a telephone should an ambulance or other emergency services be required.

Tutors will need to complete and lodge an incident report with the office if any incident happens at an off campus venue.

Equipment

Glen Eira U3A has a range of equipment that can be booked from the office. Tutors should check equipment before commencement of the session.

Name tags

Members are provided with name tags each year which include emergency contact details. It is a requirement that name tags be worn at all times.

Rolls

For courses conducted in the main building, tutors should collect the roll from the tray in front of the office as they arrive for their course, and return it at the end of the session.

For courses based elsewhere, tutors will be provided with the roll prior to commencement of the course. If members have been absent without apology for three sessions, tutors should contact the office to check whether apologies have been advised to the office and recorded in the black folder.

All members present must sign the roll. Apologies will be recorded by the reception desk or may have been advised to the tutor. Any member absent without apology for three consecutive classes may be removed from the class by the office, and the next wait-listed member invited to attend. Tutors can be given the contact details of the wait-listed member to determine their level of skill is suitable to the course.

Collection of additional fees from students

If there are additional costs for transport or materials used by students, tutors should collect the additional fees and directly pay invoices.

Tutor absences

Tutor absences should be notified to the office on smmsadmin@gleneirau3a.org.au .

Tutors should take responsibility for notifying class members if a class is to be cancelled. For large classes, it may be desirable to set up a telephone tree for this purpose.

If the tutor is unable to contact any member, the tutor may request that the office assist.

If the absence is prolonged then options include:

- class members engaging in temporary self-help, or
- a temporary tutor being found.

Communication with students

Tutors can download details of their students from the SMMS system, and also use the system to send emails to all students in the course. Note that email replies will be sent to smmsadmin@gleneirau3a.org.au .

Tutors may seek to publish presentations or reference material on the U3A website by contacting the Secretary. Please be aware that material published will be viewable publicly.

Sharing personal information

Tutors must not circulate lists of students' details or give out information about particular students without having specific permission from the individuals involved.

However, should students decide to share their information, this is their prerogative.

Copyright

A small amount of another person's work may be copied for educational and teaching purposes.

Phone use in class

Neither tutors nor students should receive or make calls during class. Please remind students to silence phones. Any urgent call should be taken outside the classroom.

Taking photos

Tutors must obtain the approval of students before taking class photos.

Support Services

At other venues, tutors will need to check arrangements and may need to supply tea and coffee.

Parking

Restrictions apply to parking at the Glen Huntly campus. If you drive sometimes, you should obtain a U3A annual parking permit from the office.

If you need to park for up to 2 hours, you may park anywhere in the Woolworths car park. But if you are parked directly in front of the U3A fence, display your U3A parking permit.

If you need to park for up to 3 hours and you have a disabled sticker, you can park anywhere in the Woolworths car park.

If you need to park for up to 3 hours but don't have a disabled sticker, you can request a 3 hour permit from the reception desk and display it in your car. You must return the 3 hour permit before you leave.

If you need to park for more than 3 hours, you should park in front of the U3A fence and display your annual U3A permit.

Please note that there are three spaces in front of the fence to the far left-hand side that are restricted to authorised volunteers only. Those authorised have a special permit. The three spaces are allocated one to reception volunteers, one to back office volunteers and one to tutors selected by the management committee who are involved in tutoring for three hours or more on specific days, but whose classes commence after 9.30.

The Glen Huntly campus is maintained by the committee of management. Any concerns about facilities can be directed to the President at president@gleneirau3a.org.au .
