Before you start work

Opening the building

Members of the committee of management or other designated members are rostered to open and close the building each day.

If the building has not been opened by 9.30 am, or no one has made themselves known as on duty to close the building from about 3 pm, then please contact the committee member in charge of the roster, Elizabeth Goldberg on 0412 061 888.

There is a checklist that is used by rostered committee members to open and close the building. Volunteers should make themselves aware of the checklist held in the committee office. The roster is also displayed on the board in the committee office.

The committee member on duty will make themselves known to reception staff. Note that the committee member may be participating in a course whilst on duty and should advise reception staff of their location in case issues arise on the reception desk. Committee members should not leave the building whilst on duty.

Class Rolls

When you arrive, please check that class rolls for the day have been placed in the tray in front of the reception desk.

Getting started

Check the diary

Review any items recorded for today in the diary. Quickly scan entries for the previous week to identify anything that may not yet have been actioned.

If you action anything in the diary, tick it and initial it.

Turn on the computer

Turn on the computer and log in using the computer password arie25nelg. Click on the 'Reception Mail' icon. Review the email messages and take appropriate action or enter in diary for later action. Delete the email once it has been recorded or action has been determined.

Minimise the email program and check it regularly throughout the shift.

Review phone messages

Replay the phone messages by pressing the envelope button (top right) and record any apologies in the diary. Delete phone messages by pressing 5 after recording what is required. Additional details are provided below.

Change your MessageBank personal greeting

- Dial 101
- Press 3 for mailbox set-up
- Press 1 for greetings, then press 1 to re-record your greeting

Access MessageBank remotely

To listen to your messages from another Telstra phone or mobile phone call 125 102

To listen to your messages from a non-Telstra phone or mobile please call 1800 135 102

To listen to your messages from outside Australia please call +61 418 707 101

When prompted, enter your mailbox number (this is your phone number including the area code) then press # (0395720571#)

Enter your PIN, then press # (211051#)

Notify apologies

Record member apologies

Members may advise apologies by phone or email. All apologies should be recorded in the relevant rolls.

If members have not advised the name of the course, then check their membership details to work out which class it is likely to be.

Apologies for off-site courses should be written in the black folder. The tutors have been advised to contact the office if there are students who have been absent without apology for 3 sessions. The folder can then be consulted and the tutor advised if the absentee has in fact provided apology.

If apologies have been noted in the diary, initial and cross out once it has been passed on or recorded in the roll.

Action tutor apologies

If a tutor notifies that a class is cancelled, record it in the diary. Place a note in the roll. Encourage tutors to notify students by email or phone. If they have been unable to contact students, you may be requested to phone remaining students.

If a tutor is to be absent for some time, they should be requested to arrange that their students help themselves for a period, or they should speak to the course coordinator about identifying a replacement.

Respond to phone calls and enquiries

Phone

The reception number is 9572 0571. The committee office number is 9572 0572.

To put a call on hold, press the hand button. To return to the call press the hand button again.

Enquiries and messages

Respond to phone calls and counter enquiries as best you can. If some later action will need to be taken, record in the diary.

Complex membership or computer system issues can be referred to office staff via inter office memos. Place memo in the back office in-tray. Do not interrupt back office staff unless the matter is urgent.

Messages for tutors should be recorded on inter office memos and attached to the roll.

Messages for committee members should be recorded on inter office memos and placed in the pigeon holes.

Privacy

Do not give out any member details at reception. If a member needs to contact a tutor or other member, take the enquirers details and pass them on to the person they are trying to contact.

However, it is usual practice for tutors to provide their students with their contact details.

Tutors are able to view student details through the membership administration system and also email their students. If tutors need help with printing a list of students and contact details, or emailing students, the request should be passed to office staff.

Sources of information

As far as possible, members who have computer access should be encouraged to use the website www.gleneirau3a.org.au for information.

Other sources of information include:

- the main noticeboard in the foyer,
- the course description folders available on reception tables,
- the quarterly newsletter,
- the members' handbook, and
- the tutors' handbook.

Complaints

Any members making verbal complaints should be asked whether they wish their complaint to be recorded. If so, record the date, the details and the name of the complainant on an inter office memo and place in the secretary's pigeon hole.

Poor behaviour

Glen Eira U3A has adopted a code of conduct. Please ensure that you are familiar with the policy.

If someone is behaving poorly, you may wish to remind them of the requirement to act and speak respectfully.

If the problem persists you may wish to call the committee member on duty.

Any incident of poor behaviour needs to be recorded on the incident form and placed in the secretary's pigeon hole. Please note that the names of any witnesses to the incident should be recorded.

Membership administration system

A manual showing how to use the membership administration system is provided for reference at the reception desk. It contains detailed instructions for each of the following actions.

Login

Click the Glen Eira U3A icon on the computer and log in as yourself at the start of the day.

Register new members

New members can register themselves online. However, reception can offer to register new members. Require new members to complete the relevant form before registering.

Update member details

Members can update their details themselves online. However, reception can offer to update details.

Enrol in a course

Members can enrol in additional courses themselves online. However, reception can assist by enrolling members in additional course up to the class limit of 5 full year courses, as well as additional short courses. Ensure the member knows the number and name of the course.

If the member has not yet paid an annual subscription, or if additional fees are required for a course, two copies of the invoice should be printed, ready for payment.

If a new enrolment that does not require a fee has been added, then print the enrolment for the member.

After the commencement of the year, when a new member has been enrolled in a course, the member will need to be added to the roll. This can be done by hand or may require the office being requested to reprint the roll.

Remove a member from a course

A member may be removed from a course at their request, or as a result of non-attendance and non-apology at three consecutive sessions.

Rule through the member's name on the class roll. Record the action in the RED BOOK. The office staff will collect this regularly, then amend the record and may offer the place to the next person on the wait-list.

Print name tags

Requests for new name tags should be referred to the office staff.

Assistance for tutors

Tutors seeking assistance to print class lists or email their students should be referred to the office staff. Note that course rolls will be printed by office staff.

Provide member services

Course lists

Printed copies of course details are available at reception. There is no longer a charge for this.

Maps

Copies of maps of off-site locations are available at reception for no cost.

Photocopying

All reception staff need to be trained on the photocopier.

Remove any staple and then place the document to be printed face up in the feeder. Enter the relevant code and press OK. The codes are office 11111, tutor 55555, personal 99999.

If neither the originals nor the copies need to be double-sided, enter the number of copies required if more than one and press start.

For double sided originals or double sided copies, select duplex and choose the appropriate option.

There is no longer any charge for photocopying

Colour copying is also available. See signage for more details.

Parking permits

At the start of the year, reception will issue U3A parking permits for 2019 to members who may, on occasion, need to park in designated bays along the front fence. These permits do not need to be returned.

Members who need to park for up to 3 hours but don't have a disability sticker, can request a 3 hour Woolworth permit from reception. Members must sign for a permit and return it before leaving.

Please note that there are three spaces in front of the fence to the far left-hand side that are restricted to authorised volunteers only. Those authorised have a special permit. One space each day is available for use by reception volunteers on duty.

Name tags

Name tags will be printed ready for existing members for collection at the start of the year. The tag should be inserted in the existing pouch.

After registering a new member, reception should request office staff to print a new name tag.

Lanyards and replacement badges may be purchased from reception. Money should be placed in the box marked lanyards.

Receiving payment

Subscription fees of $60 or additional fees specified for a course can be paid by credit or debit card, in cash or by cheque at reception. Credit or debit cards can be accepted using PaypalHere in conjunction with an ipad. The Treasurer holds the equipment. During the year this option will only be available if reception staff have been trained in its use, or the Treasurer is available.

Two copies of the invoice are required. Each copy is date stamped, 'card', 'cash' or 'cheque' noted, and initialled and money placed in the blue cash box. One copy of the invoice is returned to the member, and the other is placed in the administrator tray in the back office.

For any other fees paid to reception, a receipt should be issued to the member. The money should be placed in a marked envelope in the blue cash box.

Payment by credit or debit cards

Only volunteers who have been trained may take payment by credit or debit card:

1. The Paypal Here card reader will be connected via Bluetooth to the ipad.
2. Open the Paypal Here App on the ipad.
3. Enter the amount in the App on the ipad.
4. Tap the tap and go card on the card reader (or, if necessary, insert the card and invite the member to enter their PIN in the card reader and tap the green tick). The payment will be made into the Glen Eira U3A account.
5. Stamp each of the invoices as paid.
6. Return one invoice to member and retain second to be passed to the back office.

Tap and Go card reader

Power button

On: Press once

Standby: Press once more

Off: Hold button for 5 seconds

Class Rolls

At the end of each day, retrieve the day's rolls from the in tray in front of the reception desk. Place the rolls for the next day in the tray.

Taxies

If a member requires a taxi, phone 132 227 and quote 9572 0571. Make sure you advise how to enter from the Woolworths car park via Manchester Grove.

Medical emergencies

If a medical emergency occurs make the patient safe and call the ambulance on 000.

A hands-free phone is available from the back office so that you can stay with the patient (even if outside the building but still in the grounds) whilst talking with the call-taker. If necessary call the member's emergency contact.

Make the committee member on duty aware of what has happened.

Complete an incident report and leave it in the secretary's pigeon hole. If the matter needs more urgent follow up, call the secretary or president.

Forms

Copies of standard forms are held as master copies in the office.
